Remember how I led you these 40 years.

Having dropped Chris off for her routine optician's appointment in Chippenham, I took the opportunity to go for a walk. I soon found myself in the same road I had walked 40 years ago this month on my first day at work. I recalled the feeling of some trepidation and the fact that I had to cross a picket line on the factory gate. The entrance to the factory is now occupied by a supermarket and a budget hotel! The opposite side of the road was then an abattoir. I remembered the squeal of pigs and a particular aroma in the air. I have seldom thought about that place, those events and that smell for 40 years and yet the memory was immediate and vibrant, triggered only by being in the same place. What a remarkable gift memory is and what a challenge if memory weakens or fades with age.

Remember is a word we hear quite often in the Bible especially in the Old Testament. In spite of the wonderful power of memory we are also forgetful so God encourages his people to remember their story, how and where God was present and active in their lives in good times and bad. Remember they are told you were slaves in Egypt and let that affect how you care for the poor and needy in your community now. Remember how I led you these 40 years; how I provided for you; guided your path and brought you to a place of safety. Do not forget this and do not forget me.

Although we may forget what God has done for us - the answered prayers, the protection, guidance and comfort when we needed it most, God's promise is to remember us always and constantly to have us in mind and on his heart.

Thank God for the gift of memory; pray for those whose memory is failing and those who care for them; thank God that he never forgets us and remember to give him thanks and praise often.

Lance Parker

For those who have not heard, sadly after being unwell for some months Lance passed away on Wednesday 14th August.

His Thanksgiving Service and burial were held at All Saints Church, Milford-on-Sea. A beautiful Anglican Church with a wonderful organist who played some of Lance's favourite music including numbers by the Rolling Stones.

The singing was truly Methodist, Wonderful Hymns.
Catherine read one of the lessons and for those who remember her from Sunday School, her reading was impressive.

A Methodist Minister led the service. A perfect Service for Lance and for Jackie, Catherine and Jonathan and family.

Lance will be missed by all who knew and loved him.

In his time with us he was a Steward, House group Leader and a great friend to many of us. He had a wonderful wit, a lovely smile, twinkling eyes and a strong faith.

Please hold Jackie, Catherine & Richard, Jonathan & Ellie and little Charlie in your prayers as they come to terms with their loss.

Howard Keep

We are sorry to advise you that Howard died on the 26th August at his home in Seaton. For those of you who didn't know Howard , he was the husband of the Late Pauline Keep, a member of this church for many years.

Howard's funeral will take place at 1pm on Tuesday 17th September at Seaton URC

Letter from Rachel

Aficionados of children's TV in the early 2000s will be familiar with the title of this month's article, as it featured in the opening lines of every show… (Do you remember "What's the story in Balamory"?) We are once again spending time on the Isle of Mull near Tobermory where much of the series was filmed…

The Methodist Conference has responded to a call from last year's 3Generate Youth and Children's Conference for the church to hold a Year of Testimony – for the church (that's all of us, not just a selected few, telling how God is at work in our lives and our communities).

As we think about how we might go about this across the Circuit, I invite you to give some thought and prayerful reflection to the following which you can find on the Methodist Church website:

God invites us to claim the truth that we are part of God's story.

Our testimony is our story about being part of God's story.

As we share our honest testimony, we expand our experience of God, our understanding of ourselves, and our participation in the Body of Christ.

Our testimonies are never ours alone. They are embedded in a community of faith. So they are always part of the ongoing conversation of the community, a conversation that builds responsibility and trust.

God's story + our story

- The Bible itself includes a chorus of diverse testimonies – stories of individuals and communities as they are addressed by, encounter, and respond to the living God.
- As we tell God's story, God's story "tells" us, and we have a new story to tell. - Lillian Daniel
- Preparing to tell our stories in the context of God's story, and telling those stories in public, and trusting our stories to be received and engaged by the community – each of these practices and all of them connected together are channels of God's grace, opportunities for the individual teller and the whole church to awaken to God.
- Testimony always includes a true life story, but it is more than a life story.

- We know our stories are part of God's story when we can reflectively connect them to the love of God, the grace of Jesus Christ, the challenging power of the Holy Spirit, and/or the vast experience – pain, joy, awe, lament, doubt, failure, transformation, etc. – of the first disciples and apostles.

This year's President and Vice-President have produced a book called "So what's the Story" which can be a very helpful guide to the sharing of our stories both with each other and across the wider community…

"This is my story, this is my song…"

Peace,

Revd Rachel Borgars

ALL WE CAN
All We Can is the operating name of The Methodist Relief and Development Fund, a charity registered in England and Wales, number 291691

Who will benefit from the money raised?

The money that you raise will go to where the need is greatest, helping people living in poor communities across the world. It will help people like Fikerte.

Over the last five years, Fikerte has been bringing up her children alone, while her husband works away in the city as a labourer. Burdened by debt and a small plot of land that struggles to grow food, she works hard every day and yet still her children go hungry. She says, “I am alone. There is not enough food or clothes for the children. Not enough stationery for them for school."

In parts of Ethiopia, over the last 30 years a changing climate has destroyed harvests. Now many people, like Fikerte, struggle to feed their families. All We Can has started to help communities like Fikerte's, to produce better harvests by introducing new seeds and vegetables - including potatoes, which are better suited to the changing climate — and by equipping people with training in modern farming techniques and developing business skills.

These and other steps help to ensure successful harvests for the future, providing much- needed food and income for families. Fikerte's hope as a mother is, "To raise my children so they are able to support themselves".

With your help, through the fundraising activities you undertake, it can be possible for people like Fikerte to have their hopes realised, and to see improvement in the lives of their children and the future generations.

- If we raise £560.00 this could provide 40 families in Ethiopia with hand tools to use for developing their land, helping it to be more fertile, to yield better harvests

Harvest Weekend - Saturday 28th & Sunday 29th September

NOAH

Noah made a Wendy-house, he built it in the yard.
The kit came from IKEA, so it wasn't very hard.
However he got restless and added to its length,
And bought some heavy timbers to give it extra strength.
The boys became excited and said a bottom he should make,
Then they could all go sailing upon the local lake.
Well, Noah liked a challenge so bought extra scraps of wood
From local dumps and builders' yards and wherever else he could.
He made the playhouse watertight with pitch and softish bark,
And said "I think it's OK now- I'll christen it "The Ark"

Well one night on the radio they heard the weather- man
Say "There's a storm approaching, secure all that you can"
The clouds grew dark and menacing, the sky got black as ink
And Mrs Noah said "Dad, it shows you didn't even think,
What with the outside building job you didn't fix our roof,
And water's dripping on my bed- look I'll give you proof."
Well Noah then said the only thing is move into the Ark
"We'll take all our insurance forms and treat it as a lark,
And don't forget the dog and cat, and all the hens and others
And all the potted plants inside and things that are your mothers'"

The rain it kept a'coming down , the water rose up higher.
"Much more of this", said Ham to Shem, "We'll all be in the mire,
Go back and empty out the fridge and bring out loaves of bread
And Japheth, also tins of stuff - do what your mother said"
Within a day the flood increased till they began to float
"By Gosh" said Noah, "Ain't I glad we made a flipping boat"
By then they all had rescued a range of soaking creatures
From ordinary four legged ones to those with ugly features
But all were happy to be there all in the warm and dry
Though some became quite homesick and the babies gave a cry.

Up and up the waters rose till they blocked Channel Seven
"Golly, any higher and we'll soon be up to heaven"
They let a pigeon stretch his wings and have a little roam
But soon enough he'd looked around and then he came back home.
Well after forty days like this he had another flight
And this time brought a leaf with him, and Noah said "Alright
It goes to show the flood is less, we'll soon be on the ground,
But where we are I'm still not sure- my Sat-Nav can't be found
They landed on a sandy beach, and Noah said "Well, that's that
I guessed as much, the first ashore is a rat.

Before the rest of you can leave, this Ark must be quite clean,
All sparkling, Bristol Fashion. I know I must seem mean,
But Mrs Noah can't do the job, not even with me helping
So get down on your knees and scrub- I'll hear no selfish yelping."
Then GOD came down and said to Noah " You've learnt a thing or two,
So learn to love and help each one- just like your superb crew.

WORSHIP

All are Welcome - Bedale Methodist Church, Bedale

Following the re-opening of the Methodist Church in Bedale, the building was buzzing with life when some of the students from nearby Mowbray School, where students with learning disabilities receive a wonderful education, came to give their summer concert.

The recent redevelopment features new sloped access to the now levelled floor, along with the removal of the pews, solar panels, an enlarged modern kitchen and accessible toilet facilities. The work has been funded through direct congregational giving and grants from the Connexional Property Fund, Methodist Insurance, TMCP, Allchurches Trust, the Yorkshire North and East District, the Ripon and Lower Dales Circuit, the proceeds from the sale of two chapels, and other grant giving bodies.

Bedale Methodist Church are very grateful for all the support they have received from Methodism in various ways and look forward to continuing the work of the Kingdom

SERVICE

Toilet Twinning Chester le Street Methodist Church, Chester le Street

Chester le Street Methodist Church has been going potty in a bid to ‘twin’ all the toilets in their building.

The church has raised an admirable £1200 for Tearfund’s Toilet Twinning initiative. The funds will go to help communities in developing countries build their own facilities and so prevent sanitation-related diseases. The church and groups meeting in the building have raised enough money to twin ten toilets, and now have certificates showing photographs of the twinned toilets in countries from Afghanistan to the Central African Republic which are proudly displayed in their own WCs.

The church prayed for communities around the world who don’t yet have toilets, and celebrated everything they'd achieved so far at a special community service.

EVANGELISM

Experience Church - Monton Methodist Church, Salford

The Church Celebrates – around the communion table, set for communion, they spoke about the Last Supper, the celebration meal that Jesus had with his disciples before he died, and how they were told to do this to remember him. They coloured in cards to decorate the table for the celebration.

The sessions were brought to a close with the idea that the 'Church Shares'. Students shared what they had experienced and learnt about church while also learning about Jesus's Great Commission to go and tell others about himOn Tuesday 4 June, Monton Methodist Church welcomed 40 year 6 pupils from Monton Green Primary School to Experience Church.

Experience Church is an interactive, multi-sensory way of engaging primary school children in learning about their local church and how Christians worship and practice their faith today.

During their trip, they visited five stations across the building, where they learnt:

The Church Welcomes – baptisms and what happens when a person is welcomed into the church family. The children placed folded crosses into the water, which opened to reveal the word 'Welcome'.

The Church Teaches – at each service part of the Bible is read from the lectern. Jesus used birds and flowers to explain God's care for all living creatures, the students made a bird to hang on the tree as a reminder.

The Church Prays – the children learnt that Christians can pray anywhere and at any time, but in church they can pray together. The students wrote prayers for themselves on the upright of the cross, which is like a big 'I' and prayers for others on the crossbeam, reminding them of outstretched arms.

The Church Serves – under the stained-glass window, the students learnt that Jesus wanted his followers to live lives that would light up the world with God's love. They designed their own stained glass depicting what makes the world a brighter, happier place for them.

The Church Celebrates – around the communion table, set for communion, they spoke about the Last Supper, the celebration meal that Jesus had with his disciples before he died, and how they were told to do this to remember him. They coloured in cards to decorate the table for the celebration.

The sessions were brought to a close with the idea that the 'Church Shares'. Students shared what they had experienced and learnt about church while also learning about Jesus's Great Commission to go and tell others about him.

LEARNING AND CARING

Negative to Positive - Moving Stories, London District

On 18 May, the London District reached the climax of the Moving Stories project that began in 2017 with the District Celebration Day at Wesley's Chapel. The project focused on changing the toxic rhetoric of migration to one of optimism and welcome.

The day began with the 'Transitions-Seen-Unseen' Art Exhibition, produced in partnership with Applecart Arts. The exhibition showcased the stories of people and communities who have been influenced by their experience of migration and travel.

As guest speaker, the celebration service featured the award-winning author Onjali Q. Raúf, who delivered a stirring session on the importance of paying attention to the negative and dehumanising media narrative. He encouraged those present to be a part of changing that narrative.

The Ex-President of the Methodist Conference, the Revd Michaela Youngson was also in attendance, sharing on the nature of God's people as migrants, with the Ex-Vice-President, Bala Gnanapragasam reflecting on the positive ways local churches in the Connexion engage in issues of migration.

Graeme Hodge, CEO of All We Can spoke about the work of the organisation in assisting those affected by migration. Three choirs sang over the course of the day, the Nigerian Fellowship Choir, the Eden Choir and the Susanna Wesley Auxiliary Mission Choir, before the day concluded with afternoon tea.

Conference 2019

Methodist Church recognises a climate emergency

Faced with a climate emergency the Methodist Conference has called on the UK to achieve net zero emissions well before 2050.

This follows recent initiatives including participation in the #TheTimeIsNow Climate Coalition lobby of MPs in London last month as well as engagement with investor bodies on reducing humanity's global carbon footprint.

Single use plastics were singled out at the week-long Conference, being held at the NEC in Birmingham, with single use water bottles or cups unavailable for use by representatives.

The Conference encouraged its members and churches to reduce plastic pollution and for church cafés to consider signing up to a refill scheme, offering free refills for water bottles.

Earlier this year the Methodist Church launched Eco Circuits and Eco Districts in partnership with A Rocha, a Christian organisation engaging communities in nature conservation. The first Methodist Church to receive a Gold Eco Church Award was announced in June as Stratford-upon-Avon Methodist Church.

Barbara Glasson, President of the Conference, who walked 133 miles along canal towpaths to the Conference raising funds for communities across the world affected by climate change, said:

"As a Church we believe in the possibility of transformation. Our church has heard the voice of communities around the world that are already suffering severe consequences of climate change.

"Our response must be both individual and corporate to do all we can to tread more lightly on the earth."

Steve Hucklesby, Policy Adviser for the Methodist Church said:

"Next year the critical COP26 international climate summit may well be hosted in London. Our nation has the opportunity to provide inspiration for others. The UK must back up targets with clear policies and urgent investment to bring about a zero carbon future."
